OUR OUTDOOR STOVES HAVE EVERYTHING AN ADVENTUROUS COOK COULD EVER NEED

ESSE Garden Stoves are the perfect choice for the outdoor kitchen, and for cooks who get their satisfaction from wood fired flavours and alfresco entertaining. Just like the iconic Ironheart family of cook stoves, they offer the “best of both” – British hand built solidity, combined with tradition and practicality

Equipped to bring out the very best in creative cooks, these 500mm cook stoves will never cramp your style – whatever the recipe, however many you’ve invited. These beautifully versatile wood fired stoves provide a large clear view of the flames, a tall flue pipe for a smoke free gathering and portability to protect it from the elements. There is plenty of surface on the hotplate for hot drinks and to cook with pans and added BBQ grills or the upgrade to a built in pizza oven will expand your culinary repertoire.

Finished in high-temperature paint and maintained with flax oil treatment, it’s as resilient as it is refined. Whether on the terrace, in the garden, or beside a shepherd’s hut, the ESSE Garden Stove is a standout centrepiece for elegant outdoor living.
